STUDY HABITS

Independent study is the preparation students are required to complete in preparation for lessons. Students should routinely:

- Review class content
- Check learning
- Write down questions you have for the next lesson

Revision takes place after the teaching is complete and if the independent study has been done. Examples of revision are:

- Create study notes – e.g. mind maps or cue cards
- Practise exam questions and refer to mark schemes
- Identify gaps in learning and repeat

STUDY HABITS

Day-to-day lessons, notes/filing etc.

- Have a day-today working folder for recent classwork/homework
- Keep the bulk of your notes safe at home in a big lever arch folder
- Use dividers for subject/teacher/homework
- At the start/end of each topic, create a checklist to go in your folder to help you keep everything in order – this will make revision easier
- File your notes everyday
- Seek help early if unsure
- Be on time to lessons
